

Low-Income Housing Gets Top Billing

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Communities providing housing for families of low and moderate income are being given priority in the scramble for federal urban renewal and housing funds, says Housing Secretary George W. Romney.

However, Romney said, the Department of Housing and Urban Development has rejected a presidential task force suggestion that federal funds be withheld from communities which do not make housing available to lower-income families.

He told the Senate Equal Educational Opportunity Committee Wednesday that screening of applicants may accomplish the goal set by the task force.

"Most HUD grant programs have far more applications for grants than can be accommodated with federal funds," he said. Selection procedures in effect for some programs and being developed for others take into account local efforts to meet housing needs, he added.

"As an example, applications for new community loan guarantees are evaluated, in part, on the basis of the appropriate balance of housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income families and assurance of non-discrimination in housing," Romney said.

The Senate panel is probing school integration and such related issues as segregated housing. Some members contend—as does Romney—that housing and school segregation are linked closely.

Romney agreed the federal government, particularly the Federal Housing Administration, is partly responsible for segregated housing patterns common to most of the nation.

He said the FHA incorporated race-restricting covenants in its loan insurance programs from the start, and this was indefensible.

Nevertheless, Romney said, HUD is taking concrete steps to help furnish millions of new houses, including:

- Encouraging local agencies to choose sites for public housing outside areas where a minority race already is concentrated.

- Seeking legislation to provide federal suits against communities which exclude otherwise conforming low-and moderate-income housing developments just because they get federal aid.

- And, requiring proof of local efforts to implement fair housing policies, as required in the 1968 Civil Rights Act, for eligibility for urban renewal grants.

In testimony prepared for another school integration hearing today, Sen. William B. Spong Jr., D-Va., said current desegregation efforts will lead "to further disarray in our education systems."

He said his bill pending before the Senate Education subcommittee would provide for children to be assigned to the nearest school but allow students in a school where his race is a majority to transfer to another where his race is in a minority.

Nixon Calls in Members of Cabinet

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer
SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon called in key Cabinet members and budget officials today for a meeting of the Domestic Council and invited them all to stay for evening at the theater in Los Angeles.

Nixon is reviewing policies on the home front, including the fight against inflation and sharing of federal revenues with state and local governments.

George Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget, among those attending today's meeting, said news Wednesday of a decline in the government's wholesale price index was a "fairly dramatic" sign that the administration's program to control inflation was taking hold.

The preliminary report on August prices said a sharp drop in food prices caused the index to decline five-tenths of one percent. It was the first time the Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported a decline in the index since August 1968.

Talking to reporters Wednesday, Shultz said the administration was "still struggling" with the fiscal 1971 budget. He declined to speculate on its final total or reports that there might be a $10 billion to $15 billion deficit.

The officials, their wives and other White House officials were invited to join the President and Mrs. Nixon in the evening for a black-tie dinner and concert at the Los Angeles Music Center.

Others invited to the performance of the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera's "Musical Theater Cavalcade" include members of the center's Performing Arts Council, representatives of various Southern California music and cultural groups, county supervisors and Hollywood celebrities.

The concert features selections ranging from Offenbach to Lerner and Lowe.

Boycott at Texarkana a Failure

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—E. D. Trice, superintendent of schools here, said Wednesday that a planned boycott of schools by Negroes had apparently failed.

Trice said attendance figures at all schools reported a heavy turnout for registration. Negroes had expressed disagreement with the desegregation plan for the district which they said meant that black school children were being sent to formerly all-white schools.

Trice said no disturbance or picketing was reported.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Foil Liquor Packet Made for Planes

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aerospace Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A few extra drops of liquor for two cents less and no noisy glass bottles to worry about.

Those are advantages of a new aluminum foil packet of liquor designed to replace the conventional miniature bottles served aboard airliners. But some airlines aren't buying.

"We have the feeling that probably this has come along too soon," said Martin Little of American Airlines. "We probably will offer use of it until later," he said, following six weeks of testing.

Pan American World Airways also tested the foil packet encased in cardboard. But Pan AM is sticking with bottles.

"If they come through with something that won't crush, that can be stored and won't crumple and break, we might try it again," a spokesman said.

On the other hand, Braniff International Airways reported a generally good passenger reaction to test servings of the packets which come in scotch, bourbon, gin, vodka and four cocktails.

Overseas National, one of the largest non-scheduled lines, has been using the packets for three weeks on its charter flights and may use them exclusively.

In addition to being cheaper, lighter and less bulky, a spokesman said, "The stewardesses love them and find them much easier to handle."

The hard-to-spill packets carry instructions in three languages.

The packets save 16 pounds in weight per liquor carrier. A transatlantic flight requires three carriers for the bottle miniatures, but only two when the packets are used.

"And if the manufacturers put them out in a wider range we can stock a greater variety of liquor—brandy, for instance, which is very hard to stock in bottles in the quantities required," the Overseas spokesman said.

Another supplemental airline, Trans International, and Wien Consolidated Airlines of Alaska also have been trying out the new drink packets, and other airlines are planning further tests.

Hiram Walker & Sons, Inc., a leading distributor of miniature alcoholic servings for airlines, estimates a 35 per cent space saving of aluminum foil packets, over glass miniatures.

Orders Black Soldier to Be Buried

MIAMI (AP) — A federal judge today ordered an all-white cemetery to bury a black soldier who was killed in Vietnam and refused interment because of his race.

Attorneys for the family of Spec. 4 Pondexter E. Williams said he would be buried Saturday at Hillcrest Memorial Gardens in Fort Pierce with full military honors.

U.S. Dist. Judge William O. Mehrrens heard arguments from attorneys from both sides in his chambers, with reporters excluded, then announced in the court the issuance of a temporary injunction blocking the cemetery from prohibiting Williams' burial any longer.

Lawyers explained the "temporary" part of the injunction was a technicality and the order to bury Williams is final.

Since his military funeral last Sunday in the National Guard Armory at Fort Pierce, 125 miles north of here, Williams' body has lain in a flag-draped coffin, awaiting the outcome of the court suit. Friends stood a vigil over the casket while the case progressed.

The suit was joined by family attorneys, the U.S. Justice Department, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the American Civil Liberties Union.

The suit was brought against the cemetery because of a contract clause which says, "No bodies except those of persons of the white or Caucasian race may be interred in said lots."

Oil Co. Fine 'Landmark for Public'

By GENE ORMSBY
Associated Press Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel says the $1 million fine imposed on the Chevron Oil Co. for a massive oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico is "a landmark for the public."

Commenting after the judgment in U.S. District Court here Wednesday, Hickel said in Washington: "It is my hope—and surely the hope of industry that this will serve as an example that we must be responsive to the public."

Judge Alvin B. Rubin imposed the maximum fine of $2,000 each on 500 counts against Chevron after the firm changed its plea to no contest. Previously, Chevron had pleaded not guilty to all 900 counts filed against it in the first prosecution brought under the 1953 Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act.

U.S. Atty. Gerald Gallinger and his assistant, Richard Olsen, agreed to dismissal of the last 400 counts against Chevron. The no contest plea meant the company was submitting to the charges but not admitting guilt.

The original 900 counts charged Chevron with failing to install storm chokes on 90 of its offshore oil wells in the Gulf for 10 days each. A storm choke is a safety and antipollution device required by the Interior Department. It is installed in the well pipe and shuts off the oil flow if the platform is damaged.

The indictment was returned May 5—five weeks after the capping of the last of a cluster of wells that ran wild after a fire.

Hickel said the spill "never should have occurred."

"We will continue to address ourselves," he said, "to making the public environment more acceptable, and the administration will continue to prosecute those who pollute."

At the time of the oil spill, Hickel said, that safety devices, such as the storm choke, would have prevented it.

After flying over the Chevron platform in March, Hickel said the pollution exceeded that which damaged the California coast at Santa Barbara in 1969.

The spill followed a fire and explosion Feb. 10 on an automated platform controlling 12 wells.

The explosion left some of the wells blowing wild in the worst offshore oil spill on record. The final well was capped seven weeks after the blast.

Complaints Over Arkansas Guard Dropped

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The regional office of the U.S. Labor Department has dismissed complaints against the Arkansas National Guard by the National Federation of Federal Employees.

C. L. Utterback, regional administrator said one of the complaints was without merit and in the other the proper procedures for filing the complaint were not used.

One of the complaints said that a technician had been "passed over" for a promotion and his character attacked in a notice on the employees' bulletin. The complaint said the employee was then fired when he protested.

Utterback said that it appeared the reason the employee was fired was because of "intemperate use" of alcohol.

NFFE had asked Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to fire Maj. Gen. Charles H. Wilson, the adjutant general of the guard, because the union charged that Wilson had encouraged employees to leave the union.

Utterback said the proper filing procedures were not used in the complaint against Wilson.

Robert Faulkner, Rockefeller's executive aide, said the state Labor Department is still working with the union and guard officials but, "it looks like the matter is over."

Female Activists March Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Women activists around the country, marking the 50th anniversary of their winning the vote, have begun a new drive for equality. They marched in the streets, chanted at rallies and held symbolic demonstrations.

High point of Wednesday's "Women's Strike for Equality" was a mass march down New York's Fifth Avenue that drew a police-estimated crowd of more than 20,000 persons, including some men. Parade officials put the figure as high as 50,000.

Other major demonstrations were held in Washington, Boston, Chicago, Indianapolis and San Francisco but there was also activity in cities the size of Missoula, Mont., and Paramus, N.J.

Betty Friedan, founder of the National Organization for Women—NOW—and originator of the idea for the strike, said the scope of the activity was "beyond our wildest dreams."

Major goals of the demonstration were equal job opportunities and pay, free abortions and 24-hour child care centers. Women were urged to stay home from their jobs and not perform menial household tasks.

Business communities reported little absenteeism, however, and the largest crowds were for those events timed for the lunch hour or after work.

The New York parade drew thousands of homebound office workers as spectators—most of them friendly. Others stared or snickered or shouted disapproval.

One group of antiliberation women carrying pink signs identifying them as members of "Men Our Masters—MOM," crossed police barricades to scuffle briefly with the marchers until police separated them.

The mood was generally jovial but with serious overtones. "It's both serious and fun, but not something to be made fun of," commented one woman marcher. "There is a feeling of unity among us."

At a rally following the march Mrs. Friedan declared: "This is not a bedroom war, this is a political movement. Man is not the enemy, man is a fellow victim."

Kate Millett, acknowledged chief theoretician of the women's liberation movement and author of "Sexual Politics," said, "Today is the beginning of a new movement. Today is the end of millenniums of oppression."

About 2,000 people turned out for a noontime rally in Boston where Mrs. Florence Luscomb, who worked for women's suffrage 50 years ago, told the audience that at the start of the feminist movement "it was immoral for a woman to speak in public like this."

Police estimated a Chicago crowd at 3,000 and another 3,000 gathered in Indianapolis where members of a women's liberation group performed a skit demonstrating their demands.

In Missoula, Mont., three women were arrested on disorderly conduct charges after painting liberation signs on residential sidewalks. And 150 women turned out for a brief demonstration in Paramus.

But there were thousands more like Barbara Sullivan who was asked about women's liberation as she folded her 15-month-old daughter's diapers in a Brooklyn laundry.

"Women's liberation?" she said. "Never thought much about it, really."

JILL FELL, JACK KEPT GOING

Dear Helen:

Six months ago I met a beautiful, wonderful girl who, unlike most females, loved me for myself, not for money or gifts or fancy evenings on the town. She put me on a pedestal and brought out all the good in me I didn't know I had. I started feeling warm and loving, but I interpreted this as being "trapped." I considered it un-masculine to feel soft and tender about a girl. So I told her goodbye and resumed that vicious cycle of "wine, women and song."

Now, six months later I realize I've been living a hollow, meaningless substitute for what I gave up. I know it was real love, the good, decent kind that can last a lifetime and bring me such happiness as I've never known.

Is it too late to tell this girl I love her and want only the shelter of her loving arms? —WISER NOW—JACK

Dear Wiser:
Nice try, honey, but your handwriting and your romantic wordage make me 99 percent certain Jill, not Jack, wrote that letter!

And should you think this will shock him into coming back, forget it. If a man isn't ready to settle down, no amount of advice column reminders will change him. They might even help prove how lucky Jack was not to tumble when Jill fell. —H.

Dear Helen:

I was at a card game with a few guys the other night when two girls dropped by the house. We broke up the game and were all sitting on the floor playing records, etc., and drinking. In fact, we got pretty boozed up.

One of the girls started talking to me and then she got friendlier.

My problem is that I am engaged to another girl, and I don't want to marry her with a guilty conscience. I feel I must tell her what happened, which wasn't much, but if the other guys mention it, she will think so.

How can I let her know there is nothing between me and this other girl? —GUILTY CONSCIENCE

Dear G. C.:

If it "wasn't much" it's forgotten—unless your guilty conscience is mainly fear that somebody has a big mouth.

In which case, tell your fiancée the whole truth, and hope she believes you. Is there any reason why she shouldn't? H.

Dear Helen:

Why is it girls don't thank you for anything? I'll take a girl to a movie or for something to eat, and you'd think she could at least show she enjoyed it, but evidently it embarrasses her to say "Thank you."

Am I supposed to thank HER for the privilege of spending my money on her? —WHAT'S RIGHT?

Dear W. R.:

"Thanks for a great evening" should be mutually expressed, though not necessarily in those words. (Sometimes "Hey, that was fun!" does just as well.)

A girl who won't let a boy know she enjoyed the date shouldn't expect a second invitation. —H.

Laver Defeats Russell

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Rod Laver, the top-seeded man in the $25,000 Marlboro Open Tennis championship, says he wouldn't want to face Richard Russell on the grass courts here every day.

"With the kind of service he has and the shape the courts are in, the ball can go any way," Laver said.

Laver, one of three seeded Australians in the tournament, had to battle head to head with Russell, from Jamaica, W.I., Wednesday before pulling out a 7-6, 6-3 victory.

Throughout the match, both players had to replace divots they dug up while racing to make returns. Several bad hops

Buckeyes Are Getting Ready for Michigan

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Michigan, the team that wrecked Ohio State's bid for a second straight national college football crown last fall, is still a word coach Woody Hayes keeps out of his vocabulary.

The Wolverines spilled the Buckeyes 24-12 in the last game in 1969, costing Ohio State an undisputed Big Ten Conference title and a national title.

"That team that decisioned us in the final game deserves a high rating again," Hayes said of Michigan which earned a league co-title with the Buckeyes.

Although Hayes would contend the eight games before Michigan in 1970 are just as important, the 20-year Ohio State boss will concentrate on his bitter rival.

What can he call on as the Buckeyes bid for their fourth national and seventh league crown under Hayes?

He can call on 18 two-year lettermen who played on the 1968 Big Ten, national and Rose Bowl champion team, one of the country's top quarterbacks, two All-Americans and eight to 10 prize sophomores.

"The sophomores should make us a little stronger than last year," Hayes said. "Eight or 10 of them could be starting before the season is over."

Only three, 240-pound offensive guard John Hicks and 240-pound George Hasenohr and 232-pound Shad Williams, will crack the veteran lineup early.

Hicks is the biggest guard Hayes has had since All-American Jim Parker in 1956, an ironic twist to the 1970 Buckeye picture. It's offensive guard that could be Ohio State's one real weakness.

"We have lost eight guards one way or another since last season," Hayes said.

Excepting All-American fullback Jim Otis, most of the firepower returns from the 8-1 team last fall.

Quarterback Rex Kern launches his third season of driving opposing defenses crazy with his option plays. He's played nearly all of his three seasons with assorted injuries and has undergone two operations during that span.

The defense again will be a relentless, excellent-pursuing one centered around middle guard Jim Stillwagon and cornerback Jack Tatum.

Hayes, once famed for his three-plays-and-a-cloud-of-dust offense, has gone more to the passing game in recent seasons. With the personnel available, he is expected to continue that tendency this fall.

"Nobody has better receivers than we do," Hayes said of ends Bruce Jankowski and Jan White and wingback Larry Zelina.

Jankowski and White both travel the 100-yard dash in under 10 seconds and all three "can catch the ball in a crowd," according to Hayes.

The Buckeyes' biggest problem? Complacency.

"It's up to us coaches to build a fire under the seniors," one assistant coach said.

49ers Season May Become Frustrating

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers must put a lot of things together to keep their 25th season from becoming another frustrating football experience.

As usual, the team looks like a contender on paper—at least on one side of the page.

Returning quarterbacks John Brodie and Steve Spurrier gave the 49ers the most productive passing game in the National Football League last season. The team had 3,379 yards passing, and the total offensive yardage, 4,694, was second in the league.

But the 49ers' 277 points ranked 10th among the 14 teams. Despite outgaining their opponents by almost 500 yards, the 49ers were outscored 277-319 and had a 4-8-2 record.

How were all those offensive yards wasted?

"They say kicking and kick coverage is 25 per cent of football," says Coach Dick Nolan. "Last year, it was about 75 per cent for us. I hate to think of the games we could have won."

The placekicking this season will be done by Bruce Gossett, acquired from the Los Angeles Rams in a trade for cornerback Kermit Alexander. Gossett kicked 22 field goals in 1969, compared to the six the 49ers got from the since-departed Tommy Davis and Mornello Gavril.

There will be a new punter, too, because Jon Kilgore didn't report to training camp. Spurrier and rookie running back John Isenbarger are the most likely candidates.

Bruce Taylor, a first round draft pick from Boston University, should give the 49ers a strong kick return threat. He's also trying to win the cornerback job vacated by Alexander.

The 49ers have one of the best stockpiles of young talent in football, with two first round players from each of the last four college drafts. Nine rookies were on last year's squad.

"It will be awfully tough for a rookie to stick this year," Nolan said as the youngsters began disappearing from training camp.

This year's No. 1 draft pick was Cedric Hardman, a 6-foot-3, 250-pound defensive end from North Texas State. Nolan says he is capable of winning a starting job.

Ted Kwalick, the former Penn State All-American, is battling Windsor for the starting role.

Tackle Len Rohde, a 10-year man, teams with four young players in the interior offensive line. Guards Elmer Collett and Woody Peoples, tackle Cas Banaszek and center Forrest Blue all left college less than four years ago.

The 49ers have come close but have never won a divisional championship. The realignment of the NFL makes the goal look almost impossible this year.

They're in the Western Division of the National Conference, along with the Rams, the Atlanta Falcons and New Orleans Saints. Against those teams last year, the 49ers were 0-5.

Hogs Start Practice in Pads

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks wound up their noncontact drills Wednesday and looked to the start of practice in pads scheduled to begin today.

Coach Frank Broyles said the first three days of practice had been much better than expected.

Razorback wide receivers Jack Morris and Corky Cordell have been moved to the defensive secondary. Broyles said both had a lot of "quickness."

Broyles said flanker Chuck Dicus suffered a pulled leg muscle during Wednesday's practice, but it was hoped he would be able to practice in pads today.

Evans in the seventh, which turned into a two-run inning.

Arnold slammed his second homer of the game in the ninth, scoring Jeffcoat ahead of him.

The only run off Jeffcoat, now 6-3, was unearned.

In other Texas League action, San Antonio defeated Dallas-Fort Worth 8-2, Albuquerque edged Memphis 7-6 and El Paso defeated Shreveport 6-1.

Cincinnati Picks Up QB Virgil Carter

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Virgil Carter, who recently shuffled off to Buffalo, has been shuffled on to Cincinnati.

The Cincinnati Bengals, sorely in need of quarterback help, picked up the signal caller from the Bills for an undisclosed future draft choice Wednesday.

Carter, a Brigham Young star, played two years with the Chicago Bears before going to Buffalo during the off-season.

The Bengals, who lost No. 1 quarterback Greg Cook to injury recently, also picked up Bob Davis from the New York Giants. Davis, placed on waivers by the Giants, had been a reserve quarterback for the Houston Oilers for three years.

Carter completed 36 of 71 passes for 343 yards in a little-used role last year. In 1968, he passed for 769 yards while starting seven games.

Elsewhere in the National Football League, the Detroit Lions traded rookie guard Bob Parker to the Philadelphia Eagles for veteran receiver Chuck Hughes. Hughes, a four-year veteran, was a fourth-round draft choice of the Eagles in 1967.

The Baltimore Colts acquired running back Eugene Moore from San Francisco on waivers and announced the retirement of reserve linebacker Butch Riley.

The Minnesota Vikings cut defensive back Seth Miller, wide receiver John Spinks, kicker Les Perry and tackle Andy Kolstad.

Washington asked waivers on veterans Carl Kammerer, a defensive end, and Tom Brown, a strong safety, and named Floyd Peters as player-coach on the defensive line.

The Atlanta Falcons later claimed Kammerer.

The Dallas Cowboys traded an undisclosed draft choice to the New Orleans Saints for veteran safety Bobby Thompson.

Boston placed two players on the injured waiver list—quarterback Aaron Marsh and Ed Toner, a defensive tackle.

Receiver Willie Richardson returned to the Pittsburgh Steelers camp after three days' absence because of a contract hassle.

Coach Chuck Noll spoke with Richardson by phone in Baltimore and suggested he try to solve the problem in camp, a Steeler spokesman said.

Richardson, obtained by the Steelers from the Colts last week, had left the Latrobe, Pa. site over the weekend when he asked to have his contract renegotiated and the club refused.

Seven players with the flu missed their second straight day of practice at the San Francisco 49ers' camp. Coach Dick Nolan said he expected the sick players, including starters Dick Witcher and Charlie Krueger, to be ready for Saturday night's game against Denver.

Chicago announced that Jack Concannon would be the starting quarterback Saturday night against St. Louis.

Orioles Have 5-1 Victory Over Oakland

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Tangling with Don Buford at 60 feet, six inches isn't Jim Hunter's idea of nocturnal bliss—especially on an August night in Baltimore.

Buford cuffed Hunter for a two-run homer Wednesday night, propelling the Orioles to a 5-1 victory over the fading Oakland A's.

It was the Baltimore mini-sluggers' 13th base hit in 21 at-bats against the Catfish over the past two years. And it was the Oakland right-hander's ninth loss in as many August decisions in those two seasons.

Elsewhere, a bomb scare in Cleveland failed to rattle Steve Hargan, who pitched the Indians to a 7-2 victory over Milwaukee; Minnesota blanked Boston 7-0 on rookie Bert Blyleven's four-hitter; the New York Yankees topped Kansas City 3-0 behind Stan Bahnsen; California beat Detroit 6-3 and the Chicago White Sox downed Washington 3-1.

In the National League, Atlanta rallied to shade the New York Mets 9-7; Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 6-5; Houston nipped Montreal 5-4; San Francisco outscored St. Louis 8-7; San Diego tripped Pittsburgh 2-1 and Los Angeles trimmed the Chicago Cubs 8-5.

Buford's 14th homer of the season, a third-inning shot over the right center field fence, gave Jim Palmer all the impetus he needed to gain his 18th victory. Buford also singled off reliever Bob Locker in the seventh and boosted his season batting average to .275. His two-year mark against Hunter is 619.

Palmer, who has lost seven, scattered six hits, including a homer by Felipe Alou in the fourth, as the Orioles breezed to their ninth win in 10 games.

Hunter, 15-12, has lost four in a row while the A's have dropped five straight and nine of their last 10 starts.

Home runs by Ted Uhlaender and rookie Roy Foster broke up a close game at Cleveland and gave Hargan his sixth straight victory since being recalled from the minors early last month.

A telephone report that a bomb would explode in Cleveland Stadium at 8 p.m., EDT, failed to halt the game and the deadline passed without incident. Police, however, made a search of the stands before the start of the game.

A similar bomb threat forced evacuation of Metropolitan Stadium in Minnesota during Tuesday night's game between the Twins and Boston.

Blyleven hurled the Twins out of a three-game tailspin by taming the Red Sox for his first major league shutout. Cesar Tovar drove in three runs with a single and double off Ray Culp, a longtime Minnesota nemesis, as the Twins protected their 3½-game West Division lead over second-place California.

Bahnsen stopped Kansas City on five hits and the Yankees jumped on Wally Bunker for three first inning runs to hand the winless right-hander his eighth loss.

California's Clyde Wright picked up his 18th victory with relief help from Ken Tatum as the Angeles beat Denny McLain on homers by Roger Repoz and Ken McMullen.

Syd O'Brien and Carlos May hit home runs for the White Sox and winning pitcher Jerry Janek shut out the Senators until Aurelio Rodriguez homered in the seventh.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Intrepid vs. Gretel II for the America's Cup?

Skipper Bill Ficker of the Intrepid says that's the last thing from his mind right now.

"I haven't even thought about that, I'm just thinking about one race at a time," Ficker said Wednesday after whipping Valiant for the third time in four meetings of the final trials to determine the U.S. defender for the famed yachting cup.

Gretel II of Australia, meanwhile, defeated the French yacht France to take a 3-0 lead in their best-of-7 meeting to determine the challenger for the cup.

The American defender will be chosen between Intrepid and Valiant by the New York Yacht Club's America's Cup Committee.

How many victories does Ficker think it will take to make his craft the American entry?

"Every one," he said, "we have the edge now. We have to try to maintain that edge. We've demonstrated we're capable of winning. Whether we can keep going is the big question."

Bob McCullough, captain of the Valiant, said: "We've got to start winning by today or tomorrow at the latest. We need more boat speed, that's for sure. We don't seem to have as much as he (Ficker) had."

Intrepid's performance Wednesday over the 24.3-mile course in an 8-to-15-knot breeze had to impress McCullough. She outdistanced Valiant on every leg of the course—upwind and down—and won by two minutes, eight seconds.

The race between Gretel II and France was not as close at any point as the two previous races had been. The Australian yacht whipped the French entry by two minutes, 24 seconds.

Louis Novrazz, who is sailing France, tried a series of short tacks trying to keep Gretel II within range, but to no avail.

Gretel II rounded the first mark one minute, 32 seconds ahead and was never seriously threatened thereafter.

A foredeck hand tumbled off Gretel's deck soon after she rounded the first mark. However, he grabbed the yacht's mainsheet and was hauled aboard without Gretel having to change course.

Majority Disappointed in Americans

TURIN, Italy (AP) — "I thought the Americans could do better," said Mirjana Segrt of Yugoslavia, who echoed the majority opinion at the Sixth World University Games.

Miss Segrt was talking about the American girls—who took second in the two women's events on opening day Wednesday.

The American men didn't do badly, though, finishing one-two in the three men's finals of this international athletic showcase.

Miss Segrt, a 1968 Olympic performer, edged Marcia McCuen of Fullerton, Calif., Junior College in the 100-meter freestyle. Miss Segrt's time was 1:00.9 to Miss McCuen's 1:01.1.

Frank Heckl, of Hollywood, Calif., the U.S. 100-meter freestyle champion, won the gold medal in his specialty with a meet record-tying 53.2; John Ferris, Sacramento, Calif., won the 100-meter butterfly in 57.5 and Andy Strenk, Long Beach, Calif., took the 1,500-meter free style in 16:43.1.

Miss Segrt admitted she expected a better showing by the American women.

"Everybody is surprised," she said, "but nobody is more so than me. I was hoping to get a bronze medal, but I felt in good shape and got a good start. I really thought the Americans could do better."

George Breen, coach of the American women's team, was startled by Wednesday's results.

"I just can't find any good reason for our defeat in the freestyle," Breen said. "It came unexpected and I am really puzzled."

Ferris tried to explain the women's defeat.

"We were all tired after a lot of tough races, the U.S. championships and the flight to Turin. I was tired, too, at the end of my race. I felt my energies fading and I realized I could win, but not with a good time. I guess that is how the whole team felt."

Ferris will try to win a second gold medal in the 200-meter butterfly today.

Rick Colella of Seattle is pitted against Nikolai Pankin of the Soviet Union in the 200-meter breaststroke, another of today's features.

With each nation limited to two entries for an event in these games, the Americans bagged

Signs for Razorback Baseball

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Baseball Coach Norm DeBrynn said Wednesday that Farrel Vincent of Memphis, a highly regarded right-hand pitcher, had signed a national letter of intent with the Razorbacks.

Vincent, a 6-2, 185-pounder, Christian Brothers High School of Memphis into the Tennessee state finals. Vincent, who pitched three no-hitters during the spring, gave up one earned run in 100 innings this spring while racking up a 15-0 record.

Ferris led all the way to hip teammate Jerry Heidenreich in the butterfly.

Steve Genter of the Lake-wood, Calif., A.C. was second to Strenk in 17:01.1.

Miss Stepanova finished ahead of Linda Kurtz, the American 100-meter queen from Castro Valley, Calif. who was timed in 2:49.4.

Swimming and diving events run five days. Track and field starts Sept. 2. A total of 2,370 athletes from 64 nations are entered.

Americans to Meet Germans in Davis Cup

By JAMES F. SMITH Associated Press Writer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The defending champion American Davis Cup team put in its last day of hard work Wednesday in preparation for the cup finals this weekend against West Germany, and coach Dennis Ralston said his men were ready.

Ralston, who helped bring the cup back to the United States from Australia in 1963, would not say which of the team members would be handling the singles competition, because he said "there's no point in giving the opponents a chance to prepare." He said any of the players could do it.

Christian Kuhnke and Wilhelm Burgert are expected to be the only Germans facing the American foursome of Arthur Ashe, Cliff Richey, Stan Smith and Bob Lutz.

"I don't know of any advantage we have over the Germans," said U.S. team captain Ed Turville. "They've been playing Davis Cup competition all year and we haven't played any since last September."

None of the team thought the Germans' lack of depth would hurt them.

The 1970 Davis Cup Tournament may be the last one closed to contract pros and the Germans had expressed con-

No Hitter in Small Fry World Series

Bench Trying to Accept His Success

By RALPH BERNSTEIN Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John Bench, the sensational young Cincinnati Reds' catcher wants only one thing more than success—the ability to handle it.

"It's important that you remember where you came from, your parents and the basics of life they taught you," said the 22-year-old Bench as he awaited the start of Wednesday night's 6-5 victory over Philadelphia.

Bench is having a fantastic season with the runaway Reds in the National League West. He has 42 home runs, 126 runs batted in and is hitting .297. As a catcher, baseball experts will tell you the 195 pound Oklahoma man has no peer.

"I am trying to accept things that come with success in the right way," Bench explained. "Talking with the media, giving people autographs, this is part of the position I'm in. I'm trying to remember I'm from a little place like Bangor, Okla., and my parents taught me what was right."

Bench's 42 home runs this season break the record of 41 by a catcher set in 1953 by Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Some purists belittle the mark, because Bench has hit six of the homers while playing the outfield and one as a first baseman.

"If they want to put an asterisk alongside it, okay," says Bench. "A certain number of games at a position should count. This is qualifying as a hitter, not a fielder."

Bench admits, however, that hitting is easier when playing the outfield or first base. "It's a different attitude. You think more of your hitting and what the opposing pitcher is throwing. You're more offensive minded. When you leave the dugout to go behind the plate your thoughts are on your pitcher and the hitters coming up."

As for the kudos he's receiving now as the top young star of baseball, Bench says, "I just hope they can say it 10 years from now. That's when it will really mean something. That's when you know you really have done something. You have to progress, can't dwell on the present."

cern that the pros might get in.

"I'm against letting them in, because only two or three countries would gain from it," Burgert said.

Ingo Buding, backup player of the West Germans, said, "I'm afraid they'd just be after showmanship and money and wouldn't be defending the honor of their country." He said he was afraid too that the outcome of the matches might be arranged by the players' managers.

But Smith disagreed. "I think a lot of contract pros would like to play for their country again," he said.

Well?

Which legs do you prefer on a Saturday night, sitting home in your favorite chair? The way TV people see it, the eyes have it—Miss America, for another year, will pin the boys' ears back.

Miss America: Oh, Ploy!

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The decision of the ABC-TV network to request a change in time for the Stanford-Arkansas game (from 9:30 p.m. EDT to 6 p.m. EDT) might have seemed just another ploy in cornering the major share of the viewing audience. It was, in a reverse way.

The NBC-TV network plans to show "Miss America" late on Sept. 12 and although the country might be in love with football, the female body still takes preference over its male counterpart, ABC. It seems, feels that to put any football game, even the Super Bowl, against "Miss America" would be a complete disaster.

In 1966, Green Bay played Baltimore and the competition on NBC was "Miss America." Even though it was the first meeting between the two teams since the disputed play-off game the previous December and even though the Packers won in sudden-death, "Miss America" clobbered the rematch in the ratings.

Last season, "Miss America" had the fourth-highest audience of the season. (News specials such as the trip to the moon aren't included.) So ABC had no trouble in convincing Stanford and Arkan-

Says SW Conf. Teams Look Strong

By MIKE COCHRAN Associated Press Writer

FORT WORTH (AP) — Coach Fred Taylor says Southwest Conference football teams look stronger than ever this year and he figures Texas Christian is no exception.

"We say this every year, that our conference is going to be the strongest it's ever been," Taylor said as he entered his fourth season as head coach of the Horned Frogs.

"But I firmly believe this year the conference will be the strongest in history...take Texas and Arkansas. They're back pretty much intact."

"I feel kinda like Texas Tech has good material. Texas A&M couldn't be the big surprise...Rice could lose hardly anybody. Baylor's an up-and-coming team."

"SMU, with Chuck Hixon and the receivers he's got, they're going to beat some people."

And TCU? "We're starting out to have a winning team...and I'll be real disappointed if we don't have a good season, even though the opposition is going to be stronger."

"I know as a coach I have more confidence than I did last year, or the last three years..." Taylor's confidence is reflected in several key players. Such as:

Quarter Steve Judy: "I know there's a lot of pressure on me. I don't mind the pressure because I've got the year's experience. I went in last season not knowing what to expect...I think I'll be a better quarterback."

Center and co-captain John Ruthstrom: "Everybody came in in great shape. This is the best attitude I've seen in my five years here. This is the kind of team it's easy to be a captain for."

Defensive end and co-captain Bob Creech: "Last year TCU was known mostly as an offensive team with no defense. This year we're still going to be a good offensive team, but I think

Pitcher, 16, Has One-Hit Shutout

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Tom Pokorski, a 16-year-old left-hander, pitched a one-hit shutout Wednesday night as Covina, Calif., defeated Tampa, Fla. 6-0 in the championship game of the Colt Baseball League World Series.

Both teams are undefeated. In action Wednesday night, Darien, Conn., defeated Centennial, Wash. 8-4.

The tournament ends Saturday.

Driver Crashes at 325 mph

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — A California race car driver was killed Wednesday when he crashed at 325 miles an hour while attempting to break a land speed record on the Bonneville Salt Flats.

Noel Black, 34, of Sacramento, died in a Sale Lake City hospital about five hours after his streamliner went out of control and flipped end over end.

Officials of the Bonneville Racing Association said Black had just finished a timed mile when his vehicle suddenly swerved out of control.

There was no immediate indication what caused the crash but drivers on the Salt Flats Tuesday complained of high, gusty winds. "You couldn't get me out there on a dare," one driver said.

The Queen of Sheba mentioned in the Bible is the traditional ruler of Ethiopia.

people are going to find out we've got a good defense too."

Offensive Units Flex Their Muscles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The offensive units at most of the Southwest Conference football camps flexed their muscles Wednesday as the eight SWC teams continued the countdown for their season lifelines.

Texas Tech held a one-hour controlled scrimmage and quarterback Charles Napper's passing and Mils Langehennig's running highlighted the affair.

Napper hit 10 of 14 passes including touchdown shots of 22 yards to Langehennig and 60 yards to Robbie Best. Defensive halfback Marc Dove got into the act with a 72-yard interception return.

Rocky Self, converted from quarterback to halfback, dominated Texas A&M's first game-condition scrimmage with 172 yards rushing in 15 carries and three touchdowns. The TDs were for 23, 5, and 60 yards.

"You couldn't help but see Self out there," said Aggie head coach Gene Stallings. "He made some good runs and I also thought (Brad) Dusek ran well and (Lex) James did a good job at quarterback."

Don Shock of Conway defeated Ron Gardner of Hot Springs 3 and 1 to gain the other finals berth.

American Conference: SAN DIEGO

PROSPECTUS—Get ready to scrawl's Chargers from perennial power list in the West. Too many changes, starting from top with retirement of Sid Gillman, to maintain lofty caliber of play. Oh, they'll still be tough, but spittily as Charley Waller's new regime tries to get organized.

DeLong

OFFENSE

PASSING—Seniority recommends John Hadl for top job again, but he's being pushed hard by young Marty Domres, who's bigger, scrambles better, may have stronger arm—lacks only Hadl's eight years of experience. Just slight falter pushes Marty ahead. Rating—B

RECEIVING—Until and when Lance Alworth decides he's ready for football again, quality of corps suffers. But Gary Garrison, opposite number as wide receiver is virtually in Alworth class. No. 1 rookie Walker Gillette will be there when he learns what it's all about. You can figure Alworth will be back, too. Willie Frazier has tight end all to himself. Rating—A

RUNNING—If Brad Hubert gets over effect of knee operation and if Dickie Post, who led AFL, stays in one piece, they've got ample threat. Behind them are pluggers Gene Foster, Russ Smith who won't burn up any turfs. Hubert's the guy who's got to come through. Post already has. Rating—B

LINE—The familiar old names keep disappearing. This year it's Ron Mix who's gone—an original Charger tackle and perennial all-pro. Can compensate some if shift of huge Russ Washington to offense works out. Retain an anchor up front with Sam Grunewald at center, all-league Walt Sweeney at guard. But they need helpmates. Rating—B

DEFENSE

LINEBACKING—Savoring return of Bob Babich, who looked like world-beater until knee operation dented him all of last season. Now he's challenging incumbent Rick Redman for middle job. Nice competition. Quick Pete Barnes, fiery Jeff Staggs provide good outside protection, with Bob Bruggers chipping in, too. Rating—B+

SECONDARY—Shift of Speedy Duncan to safety, trading of all-league Kenny Graham the big nose here. Chargers have always specialized in fleet of swift defenders. Jim Hill, disappointing initially, finally showing why he was '68 top draftee. Bob Howard, Joe Beauchamp are experienced cornerbacks. Rating—B

Some Stock Market Losers Are Laughing

By LYNNE OLSON
Associated Press Writer
SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Displaying a streak of off-beat humor over the recent stock market decline, 20 businessmen have sold apples on street corners and stood in soup lines.

The men, who include a bank vice president and an interior decorator, belong to a stock and land investment club.

Club member Andy Schilly estimates the worth of each member's holdings has dropped an average of $5,000 since the stock market began its downward trend.

"In the past, we used to take our wives and hold our annual business meetings in such places as Phoenix, San Francisco and Las Vegas," said Schilly, an IBM salesman. "But this year, we knew we had to economize."

Club members were summoned to the 1970 annual meeting by a singing telegraph messenger, who warbled an invitation to the tune of "We Ain't Got a Barrel of Money."

The 20 men and their wives dined at a Salt Lake mission for indigents, where they ate nickel bowls of soup and drank water. They wore rag-tag clothing.

For the business end of the meeting they went to their stockbrokers office where a list of the organization's stock holdings and prices were read.

"They're still going down," members groaned. Then they threw a dummy labeled "Stockbroker," out the second-story window.

They ended the evening by stationing each couple on a downtown street and peddling apples and other small wares—at inflated 1970 prices—for half an hour.

"It was ridiculous," said Schilly. "We all sold our items within the time allotted, despite the terrible prices. I sold my apples to a policeman for a quarter each, and my wife sold tap dances for a dollar."

An old-time dance marathon wound up the meeting. The bank vice president won first prize—a 1929 Victrola phonograph and several dozen old records.

"We'll keep on investing," said one member. "But now we know we can sell apples and shoelaces if we have to."

Another remarked, "If we didn't laugh like this, we'd probably cry."

Cordell Hull, who was described by President Franklin Roosevelt as the "father of the United Nations," served as secretary of state for nearly 12 years, which was longer than any of his predecessors, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Plans Made to Outdo Disneyland

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ray Bolger, who played the scarecrow in quest of a brain in

"The Wizard of Oz," is the brain behind a project to out-Disney Disneyland. Its tentative title: The Wonderful Wizardland of Oz. Such an attraction already exists on a North Carolina mountaintop, Bolger said. But his goal is to bring bigger and better ones to the Los Angeles area and probably Florida. "Disneyland has characters

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck and so on, but we have a theme; that everyone has a heart, brain and courage—the qualities sought by the tin man, the scarecrow and the cowardly lion in "The Wizard of Oz."

Printed by Offset
Bolger sees Wizardland as including contented communal living areas in an era of "people retiring at 55." In the amusement park itself, the yellow brick road would lead to—

Scarecrow Land, a farm land with petting animals ... the Tin Man's Land, mechanical attractions, tin hats, tin suits ... the Cowardly Lion Land, wild animals ... Dorothy's House in Kansas, with a cyclone effect ... the Wizard's Castle ... witches' castles."

Bolger said the project is in only preliminary stages but that a San Francisco contractor and a Utah construction company are associated with him. Wizard Land is but one of various activities busy on the still-able 66-year-old stage and screen veteran.

Thursday, August 27, 1970
In a back yard studio, crowded with piano, sound gear and music files, he practices dance steps for occasional appearances with a hilarious routine in night clubs and concert halls. Bolger additionally is a paid lecturer around the country on his recollections of "Oz," on patriotism and on the dance as the barometer of world trends.

Amendment to End War Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a last-minute effort to gain votes, Senate critics of White House Vietnam policy have offered President Nixon new flexibility under their "amendment to end the war."

Their inclusion of a 60-day period in which the President could suspend the total withdrawal of troops from Vietnam came as Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird declared U.S. air power will be used in Cambodia as long as it results in reducing U.S. casualties in South Vietnam.

As the stop-the-war amendment underwent its third rewriting the Senate voted, in effect, to allow continued use of herbicides in Vietnam—despite any adverse effects on the environment—and to approve more spending for the C5 transport, already burned by a $2 billion cost overrun.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., announced the new version of the amendment he is sponsoring with Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., would lock the President into his announced goal of reducing troop levels in Vietnam to 280,000 men by April 30, 1971.

The amendment still calls for the orderly end of military operations in Indochina and "the safe and systematic withdrawal of remaining forces by Dec. 31, 1971."

But the new version would allow the President to suspend that deadline for up to 60 days, without the consent of Congress, "upon a finding American troops were subjected to clear and present danger."

McGovern said if additional time were needed, the President could submit a revised timetable and other recommendations to Congress for approval within 10 days after his first action.

Meanwhile, Laird told newsmen: "If we can destroy enemy troops and supplies with the minimum casualty rate, I'm for it and I will authorize it."

He agreed with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew that the United States will do all it can

S. Carolina Driver Killed

LONOKE, Ark. (AP) — State Police said a South Carolina man was killed Wednesday night when the tractor-trailer truck he was driving rammed into the rear of another tractor-trailer truck on U.S. 40 near here.

Officials identified the victim as Harley W. Reason, 31, of Black Creek, S.C.

Reason's truck rammed into one driven by Billy L. Phillips, 44, of near Bowham, Tex., one mile west of the Prairie-Lonoke county line.

to help the Lon Nol regime governing Cambodia.

The Hatfield-McGovern amendment would restrict the U.S. spending to expenses of withdrawal, to secure release of prisoners of war, to provide asylum for any Vietnamese endangered by U.S. withdrawal and to aid the Republic of Vietnam.

In Senate votes Wednesday, an amendment by Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., requiring an outside judgment on the necessity of a $200 million C5 production contingency fund was defeated, 48 to 30.

Korea Not Satisfied on All Points

By K.C. HWANG

Associated Press Writer

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government today disagreed with much of what U.S. vice President Spiro T. Agnew said publicly about his lengthy talks with President Chung Hee Park Monday and Tuesday.

Agnew told American newsmen traveling with him that he and Park had "reached a basic accord," and the vice president also said there would be no change in U.S. plans to withdraw 20,000 of the 62,000 American troops in Korea by next June 30. But Information Minister Shin Bum-shik told a news conference:

"We have never consented to the withdrawal of 20,000 U.S. troops from Korea. There is no change at all in our basic position that the modernization of our armed forces must precede any U.S. troop cut-back in Korea."

Agnew also reported that he told Park when the "long-range" modernization program was completed, perhaps in five years, perhaps later, the United States hoped American troops would no longer be necessary in Korea. He said Park "accepts that and I think he accepts it as desirable."

Shin commented: "We understand that this statement ... was a general explanation of the principle of the Nixon Doctrine on the assumption of a situation when our self-defense capability becomes intact."

But Shin said there was no discussion of the complete withdrawal of American forces from Korea. He said Park told Agnew that he did not want U.S. troops to stay in Korea forever but felt they would be needed until South Korea can bear its defense expenditures alone. Park added that it will be quite some time before that happens, Shin said.

Alcohol Calculator for Drivers

By LEW HEAD

Associated Press Writer

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J.

(AP) — A Rutgers University scientist says he has developed a simple calculator that will tell a driver how much alcohol he can drink and still drive safely.

Dr. Leon Greenberg, executive director of laboratory research at the Rutgers Center of Alcohol Studies, says it's naive to assume that most people will follow the precaution, "if you drink, don't drive."

"A more realistic approach," he said, "is to educate people by providing guidelines about what is appropriate and inappropriate drinking if a person is going to drive."

He therefore fashioned what he calls the "Alco Calculator" to help a driver know his alcohol limit and decide when he is safe to drive.

It's a simple slide rule that carries data about body weight, number of drinks and drinking time.

Here's how he said it works: A couple goes to a cocktail party and stays four hours. The man who weighs 190 pounds, drinks four martinis. The woman, whose weight is 120, drinks three.

Which one should drive home? answer: He should.

The fellow's blood contains .04 per cent alcohol, the girl's .06 per cent. The legal minimum for being "under the influence is .05 per cent. If, having taken the

Boy Near Tears at Manson Trial

By LINDA DEUTSCH

Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A

teen-age boy was near tears at the Sharon Tate murder trial as he told of finding the bloody body of his stepfather, Leno LaBianca, in a crouching position.

Frank Struthers, 16, the son by a former marriage of LaBianca's wife Rosemary, who also was slain, took the stand Wednesday as the state turned to details of the double slaying the night after Miss Tate and four others were killed.

Details of the Tate murder scene ended with a police chemist telling how trails of blood through the mansion and outside marked the paths taken by victims trying to flee their killers. He said the word "Pig" on the front door of the house was scrawled by someone using a towel dipped in the slain actress' blood.

Charles M. Manson, 35, and three women members of his hippie style "family" are on trial charged with murdering Miss Tate, four visitors at her home and the LaBiancas in August, 1969.

The LaBiancas, slain about 10 miles from the Tate place were found amid bloody scrawlings. A carving fork was stuck in LaBianca's stomach and the word "War" was carved on his chest, police have said.

Struthers said his mother and stepfather had spent part of a weekend with him and family friends at Lake Isabella, a central California resort, then returned home ahead of the others the night of Aug. 9.

The following night, when Struthers returned, he said he got no answer when he knocked on the door. He summoned his sister, Susan, 23, who lived nearby, and a friend, and they searched for keys.

"I got the keys out of my mother's car and opened the back door," said Struthers. "When we got to the living we saw Leno LaBianca ... in a type of crouched position." He added, "We came out right away."

Struthers said he checked the house days later to see if anything was missing. His mother's wallet was gone, he said. The state's star witness, Linda Kasabian, has testified that Manson entered the LaBianca home before the killings, then came out with the wallet which he told her to discard.

The wallet, later found in a gas station rest room, was identified by Struthers. The youth, whose eyes were red and puffy, appeared near tears as he viewed a color photograph in the wallet.

"It's a graduation picture," he said, "of me."

On cross-examination of a defense attorney, Paul Fitzgerald, Struthers said the LaBiancas often left doors unlocked. His mother had a habit of leaving house and car keys in the ignition of her car, he said.

Ruth Sivick, who owned a dress store with Mrs. LaBianca, said she fed the family's cats and dogs while they were away, but locked all doors when she left. She identified pictures of the home where killers scrawled messages in blood—"Death to Pigs" on the living room wall, "Rise" on another wall, and "Healer (sic) Skelter" on a refrigerator door.

The state has said "Helter Skelter," the title of a Beatles song, was the Manson clan's code word for a race war Manson sought to start with the Tate killings.

On trial with Manson are Patricia Krenwinkel, 22; Susan Atkins, 21, and Leslie Van Houten, 20.

same number of drinks, they had decided to leave after only three hours, the fellow's blood would have contained more than the legal minimum of .05 per cent.

Greenberg said the gadget is particularly useful for people who drink in moderation. They make up 95 per cent of the 90 million drinking Americans, he said.

SINGLE STUFF—We usually stick to rapping about LPs on this spot, but we'll break with tradition to fill you in on a hot new single. It's called "Loving You Is a Natural Thing" and it's by our old buddy, Ronnie Milsap. Ronnie's been searching for a hit for a long time and this rocker, on the Chips label, ought to do the trick.

A WINNER—Youth Beat salutes Theresa Stroud of Clinton, Tenn., as the latest winner in the NEA-Caravella Project Take Time to Get Involved contest. Anne Castle, Theresa's English teacher, says Theresa, who was named most outstanding girl at Clinton Senior High, "changes people and institutions by her presence and influence. Theresa manifests the best of the attitudes of 1970's young adults. She recognizes injustices and imperfections in our institutions and in our country, and her remedy is hard work to eliminate these inequities."

So to Theresa, who has done everything from working with children in a mental hospital to editing the school paper while averaging 3.89 and making her own clothes, we're happy to send along a Caravella watch.

JONES JIBES—The September issue of Stereo Review, one of the favorite magazines of the hi-fi set, blasts Tom Jones in two articles, saying that he is the product and victim of television (whatever that means). One of the articles, written by a woman yet, says there's no reasonable explanation for Tom's success. What do you think? Best replies will be rewarded with our usual generosity.

MAIL CALL—We've been getting tons of requests for pictures of Tony Burrows, lead singer with White Plains, Edison Lighthouse, Brotherhood of Man, the Pipkins, etc., and we'll have them to you shortly. If you're interested in learning more about the British singer, write to Tony Burrows, c/o Bernie Ison, 85 W. 55th St., New York, N.Y.

MAN OF THE YEAR—Ralph Nader continues to run well in front in our very unofficial man of the year contest. Mae Wanke of Scranton, Pa., summed it up for most of those who have written when she said: "Why shouldn't Ralph be out in front? Wish we had a few hundred more like him." How about you? Do you feel the same way, or do you go along with a reader in Knoxville, Tenn., who says former President Johnson deserves the honor? You must like somebody, so let us know.

TENNIS, ANYONE?—Jack Kramer, the former tennis great who is currently putting together Pepsi's $200,000 Grand Prix of Tennis, says that if you really want to be a big name tennis ace you should only play tennis—no other sport. Jack claims playing anything else just isn't good for the old game, so keep that in mind.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The inspiration for NBC's upcoming situation comedy, "Nancy," probably came at about the time President Lyndon B. Johnson's youngest, Luci, was married and went off to live in a Texas honeymoon cottage with room for her Secret Service protectors.
"Nancy," on the network's Thursday night schedule, arrives with plenty of protection, Nielsen type. "Ironside" is in front and Dean Martin is in back, a position in which it would be difficult to lose.
But viewers who look for Luci Nugent—or Julie Nixon Eisenhower—in the character of the president's daughter will be disappointed. Renne Jarrett—pronounced to rhyme with Jenny and barrette—and John Fink, soon to be launched as the series' stars, were among those informed that Sidney Sheldon, creator of "Nancy," first tried to get White House clearance to do the series during the Johnson administration. He failed. He tried again when Richard M. Nixon became president and this time there was no objection.
So "Nancy" went into production, perhaps the first television series in which the role of president of the United States is a minor part.

Renne and John are just two of a large group of ambitious, well-trained but unknown young performers who have been chosen to become overnight stars. Like most of them, they are quiet, almost shy and still have a slightly dumbfounded look of shock at their good fortune.
Renne made her theatrical debut at three months—in a soap commercial, and much later played continuing roles in a series of soap operas including "Portia Faces Life," "Edge of Night" and "Love of Life." She has also starred in more than 100 commercials.
She is a New Yorker, hates having her first name mispronounced as if it were French and is still living in the San Fernando Valley apartment with the working-girl roommates with whom she teamed up when she was just one of a lot of girls in Hollywood looking for work.

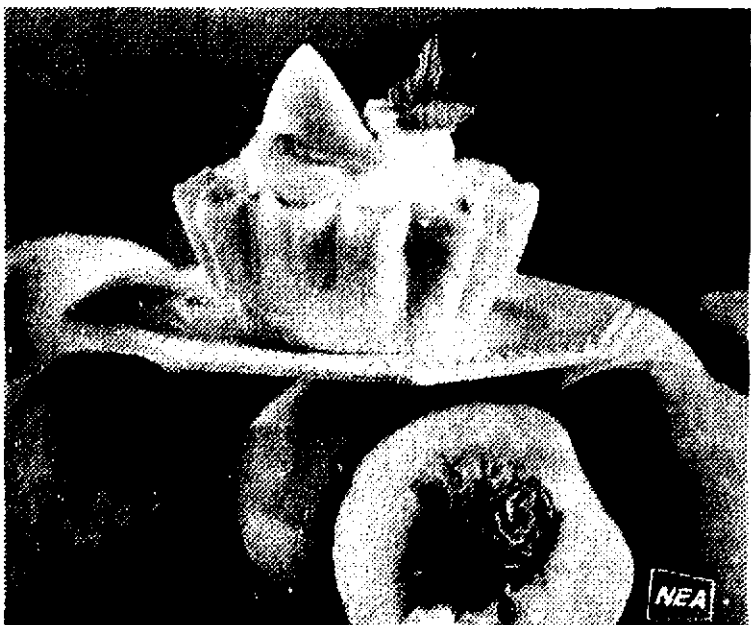

A Peachy Dessert Wows 'em

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

The peach was the delightful "Persian apple" to those who could afford them in that ancient country. Although native to China, they flourished in Europe and eventually became a late summer taste treat in the United States.

Peaches are fine accompaniments in a salad, great when eaten fresh or delightful when made into a peach dessert such as a peach chiffon tart.

PEACH CHIFFON TARTS
1½ pounds fresh peaches
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¾ cup cold water
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup heavy cream
6 baked tart shells (4 inches in diameter)
Coarsely chop peaches into medium saucepan. Mash slightly. Simmer, covered, 5 minutes or until tender. Strain peach mixture. Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve gelatin and sugar in peach mixture. Beat egg yolks slightly; stir in a little peach mixture. Return to saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, 5 minutes (do not boil). Chill mixture until it mounds when dropped from a spoon.

Peach chiffon tart makes unforgettable dessert.

Whip egg whites with salt until stiff. Whip cream stiff. Fold egg whites and half of cream into chilled mixture. Pile into tart shells. Top with remaining cream. Refrigerate until serving time. Makes 6 servings.

had fought a "good, basic campaign."
"I don't know very much about Mr. Bumpers," the governor said. "That's one of the things I'll be doing, trying to find out about Mr. Bumpers. Everybody said he was a dark horse but nobody could find the horse."

Bumpers said he was not surprised at his showing because his candidacy had gained ground since the ticket had closed June 16. He said he enjoyed a surge 10 days ago and he sensed victory four days before the election. Asked by a reporter when he caught Purcell, Bumpers laughed and said, "I caught him about 11 o'clock last night." This was late Wednesday afternoon. Up to that time, Bumpers said he had gotten only an hour's election night sleep, and that was on the floor of his campaign headquarters.

Bumpers was asked whether he thought Faubus' vote percentage was a comfortable margin to take into the runoff. "It is a substantially less amount that he would have to have to win the runoff," Bumpers said.

Questioned on whether he could defeat Faubus, Bumpers replied: "Absolutely."

He also said he felt he could whip Rockefeller in the general election.

He said he expected to receive some votes in the runoff that Faubus obtained in the preferential primary and that he also would receive the "vast majority" of the votes cast for the other six candidates in the Democratic race.

He said he planned to contact the other six, including Purcell, if his lead over Purcell stands up. Bumpers said "a couple" of candidates had indicated to him before the election that they would "be with me" if they were the loser. Bumpers declined to name them.

Bumpers said Faubus' "biggest weakness" was that he had "served the state for six terms and 12 years and has nothing new to offer."

Rockefeller said Bumpers would have a "50-50 chance" against Faubus in the runoff.

He said his general election campaign tactics would be influenced by who his opponent is.

"The issues would be pretty

WHEN THE SAINTS — St. Bernards, that is — go marching in, they're supposed to carry brandy kegs. This pup, one of nine born to "Heidi" at Northfield Center, Ohio, doesn't seem quite up to it.

clear-cut between Faubus and Rockefeller," the governor said. "You run one type of campaign there. When you're dealing with a political newcomer, it's a little bit hard to plot your campaign."

Although one of Rockefeller's opponents, the Rev. R. J. Hampton, is a Negro, the governor apparently maintained his strength among black voters.

"I talked with one of my Negro friends who is knowledgeable about such things and he said that when Hampton got involved in the Henry Shead situation, particularly the younger people in the black community became absolutely indignant," Rockefeller said.

The reference was to a charge by Hampton that Rockefeller had helped Shead, a Negro entertainer, buy a house in an all-white Little Rock subdivision and then persuaded him not to move in until after the November general election.

The Republican vote total of about 54,000 was considerably below Rockefeller's prediction of 75,000 to 100,000. The vote in 1968 was less than 30,000.

Rockefeller said that the increase above the 1968 total still showed "good progress."

With 530 of 578 Republican precincts reported, Rockefeller had 52,164 votes. Hampton had 793, former radio evangelist James K. MacKrell 666 and Lester Gibbs 469.

size of the SS11 and the Minuteman—but have not deployed them. Deployment of multiple warheads on U.S. Minuteman III missiles is under way.

Besides the SS11s, Laird said, the Soviets have about 300 SS9s and about 100 SS13s, a missile comparable to the SS11 and Minuteman.

The United States has about 1,000 Minuteman missiles, of which 10 have been outfitted so far with three warheads each that can be targeted independently on enemy points.

Dr. John Foster, the Pentagon's top scientist as director of defense research, said, meanwhile, he is concerned not with the present U.S.-Soviet "rough parity" but with the momentum of the Soviet weapons buildup while the United States stands still.

"The time is right to try to work out something with the Soviets," he said, referring to the current U.S.-Soviet arms limitation talks. "But they still have the momentum," Foster told 300 students.

Foster, admitting "I'm a research man," said he is particularly concerned with what he called the intelligence lead the Soviets could have in 1976. He said it would leave America not only behind in strategic and tactical weaponry but unable to catch up if the Soviets were suddenly found to have some new decisive weapons.

Foster said most people, including scientists, who have taken strong stands against the Safeguard antimissile system "don't know a damn thing about it."

He said the system has consistently proved workable in tests since 1961 and said that is why the administration asked expansion of two additional sites this year rather than await tests at the first two sites approved last year.

32 AMERICANS

Enemy and South Vietnamese casualties also were down. The U.S. Command said allied forces killed 1,055 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong last week, the lowest in more than three years, while the Saigon government reported 247 of its troops killed, the lowest in a month, and 745 wounded.

The American report did not include the casualties in the shooting down Wednesday of the 50-foot-long, 14-ton Chinook helicopter. Two bodies were recovered, seven men were injured, and 30 other Americans were listed as missing and presumed dead.

The big U.S. Army helicopter was hit by an enemy rocket grenade as it was coming in for a landing at Fire Base Judy, in the northern part of the country. It was transporting troops being withdrawn from Kham Duc, a base 13 miles east of the Laotian border which allied forces abandoned Wednesday.

The chopper crashed just outside the artillery base, spraying wreckage in several directions. A rotor blade hurtled into the base, killing two soldiers stationed there and wounding five others.

There were 32 Americans aboard the twin-rotor transport, and only the copilot and one passenger, an infantryman, were rescued. Both were injured. Late today no word has been received on recovery of missing bodies.

The C.Y.F. of Mt. Zion C.M.E. Church will sponsor a weiner roast on the church lawn Saturday night August 29th. The public is invited to attend. Rev. Thomas E. Cherry, Pastor.

The Bright Star Gospel singers of Bluff City, Arkansas will sing at Shorter Chapel A.M.E. Church, Blevins, Arkansas, Sunday September 6th, at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Azalea Scott is the sponsor of this program. Rev. J.T. Giles, Pastor.

Congratulations To Mr. Martinez

We are happy to extend our congratulations to Roger Martinez, a 19-year-old engineering student at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, Tex.

Mr. Martinez, a sophomore, dropped 225 goldfish down in his gutter in 42 minutes and is now claimant to the world's goldfish-swallowing record.

Recount Asked in Garland County Vote

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Hugh Beasley of Hot Springs, who apparently lost out in his bid to unseat state Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs, Wednesday asked the Garland County Democratic Committee for a recount of the votes cast in Garland County.

Hurst apparently defeated Beasley by 182 votes and had a 348 - vote margin in Garland County.

Beasley said he was not implying any improper acts on the part of election officials or Hurst.

Fair Skies Slated to Continue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The U.S. Weather Bureau says fair skies will continue through Friday, however thundershowers are predicted for this weekend as a new front moves into the state.

A high pressure system has dominated the state for several days, but this system is gradually weakening and moving out of the state.

A frontal system, now located in Canada, is expected to move into the Missouri - Arkansas area by Friday bringing with it the chance of showers and thundershowers.

Temperatures will remain stable through Friday with the highs in the 80s and low 90s and the lows generally in the 60s.

Highs Wednesday ranged from 93 at Fort Smith to 83 at Harrison.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 56; Harrison, 59; Jonesboro, 68; Pine Bluff, 67; Memphis, 68; Little Rock, 65; Fort Smith, 61; Texarkana, 64; and El Dorado, 63.

32 Americans Feared Dead in Copter Crash

Withdrawal Plan Same, Agnew Says

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Thirty-two Americans were believed dead today in one of the worst helicopter crashes of the Vietnam war, but the U.S. Command announced that American battlefield casualties last week dropped to their lowest level in 4½ years.

The weekly casualty report said 52 Americans were killed in action last week and another 358 were wounded. A spokesman said it was the lowest casualty total since the week ending March 5, 1966, when 61 Americans were killed and 177 wounded.

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew arrived in Vietnam today for his second visit of the year and declared that the success of the Cambodian venture has insured that U.S. troop withdrawals will proceed as planned.

"We will go forward with it," Agnew told newsmen accompanying him on the flight across the South China Sea from Formosa. The present program calls for U.S. forces in Vietnam to be reduced to 284,000 men by next April.

The vice president spent most of the afternoon in conference with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, reviewing the progress of the war in South Vietnam and neighboring Cambodia. They last met when Agnew was here at the beginning of the year.

Agnew was maintaining a fast pace on his current Asian visit, with 48 hours in South Korea, 24 in Nationalist China and now 24 or less in South Vietnam. He goes to Thailand Friday, and although he said again today he would not visit Cambodia, officials in Phnom Penh were making plans for him to stop there for lunch en route to Bangkok.

In his remarks to newsmen during the flight from Formosa, the vice president said the Vietnam policy advocated by Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and an opponent of U.S. participation in the war, is "very, very wrong and dangerously wrong" and is being exploited by the Hanoi government.

The newsmen asked Agnew if he was referring to antiwar senators on Wednesday when he attacked "a few opportunists who may wish to see us bug out."

"I would not cite any members of the Senate as being opportunists," Agnew replied, then added:

"I think there is a great diversity of opinion as to what we should be doing in Southeast Asia, and I find myself in violent disagreement with people such as Sen. Fulbright."

Laird Tells About Soviet Missile Test

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird says the Soviets have test-fired multiple warheads on their basic SS11 intercontinental ballistic missile for the first time.

And his top Pentagon scientist says at the present pace the Soviets could not only outstrip the United States in strategic and tactical weaponry by 1976 but in secret technology as well.

Laird announced Wednesday an American destroyer saw three objects drop in the Pacific near Midway Island last Friday from an SS11, the Russian equivalent of the U.S. Minuteman.

It is not known, he said, if the objects were weapons or if they were aimed and not simply dropped.

"If (they) do deploy this system and it does have three warheads," Laird told a news conference, "(they) accelerate the number of warheads by three times."

This would be more than 2,100 warheads using Laird's figure of "well over 700" Soviet SS11s, or 2,400 using the figure given congressional committees, this spring of 800 Soviet SS11s as of February this year.

The Soviets previously tested multiple warheads on their giant SS9—more than twice the

U.S., Soviet Peace Force Considered

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — High administration officials say the United States would seriously consider agreeing to have U.S. and Soviet units join in a peacekeeping force for the Middle East.

The administration spokesmen say they have in mind a physical presence of the two powers, perhaps as an observer force, under a United Nations umbrella.

The concept was outlined to 48 newspaper and broadcast executives from 13 Western states Monday. Release of the information was withheld for 48 hours. Ground rules of the session forbid direct quotation and identification of the sources.

The officials said Israel, in particular, wants on-the-ground security arrangements for assurance it is agreeing to a real, not a paper peace. They said U.N. involvement would not mean mere recourse to the Security Council, which the United States considers loaded against Israel.

Administration strategy for the Middle East is being built around the possibility that the United States and the Soviet Union may be enmeshed there indefinitely in on-the-scene peacekeeping, the briefers said, and that both powers will have to agree to any settlement terms.

Gunshot Wound Proves Fatal

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Police said Russell Moon, 18, of Pine Bluff died Wednesday night from an apparent accidental self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Authorities said Moon was apparently playing with a .22 caliber revolver when the gun discharged and shot him in the head.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at the University of Arkansas Medical Center in Little Rock.

An investigation into the shooting is continuing.

Consumer Suits Issue Worked Over

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation permitting consumers to band together in suits against deceptive selling practices, already approved by one Senate committee, is getting another going-over by the Judiciary Committee.

The Judiciary panel, starting its own hearings today in the unusual double-barreled committee consideration of the bill, has agreed to submit its recommendations by Sept. 14.

Its list of opening witnesses included Asst. Atty. Gen. Richard McLaren, head of the Justice Department's antitrust unit, and consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

ing partnership between the public and private sectors."

It would replace, he said, "the large amount of wasteful and inefficient expenditures already being made by private citizens, by employers, by voluntary private agencies, and by federal, state and local governments."

"Only in this way can we begin to guarantee our citizens better value for their health dollar."

Kennedy said "with only four exceptions, there are no restrictions on needed services—no cut off points, no coinsurance, no deductibles, and no waiting periods."

Joining Kennedy as principal sponsors of the plan were Sens. Ralph Yarborough, D-Texas, John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and William B. Saxton, R-Ohio.

Kennedy, in prepared remarks for the Senate floor, said the program would be financed through a trust fund similar to that for social security.

Forty per cent of the income would be derived from federal general revenues, 35 per cent of it from a 3.5 per cent tax on employers' payrolls, and 25 per cent from a 2.1 per cent tax on individual income up to $15,000 a year.

Based on 1969 figures, said Kennedy, the plan would have paid out $37 billion.

Kennedy emphasized that his bill would not create a national health service of government-owned facilities and government-employed doctors.

"On the contrary," he said, "the program proposes a work-

Five Boxes Are Still Unreported

By ROBERT SHAW

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dale Bumpers clung to a slim lead today over Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell that would send him into a Sept. 8 runoff against former Gov. Orval E. Faubus for the Democratic nomination for governor.

With all but five boxes reported, Bumpers had 84,778 votes in the unofficial returns and Purcell had 82,779. The unreported boxes were in Fulton, Pike and Stone counties.

With 2,779 out of 2,784 precincts reported:

Faubus led the eight-man Democratic field in Tuesday's voting to secure a position in the Sept. 8 runoff. He failed to avoid a runoff by obtaining a majority vote.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who won easy renomination for a third term in the Republican primary, will take on the runoff winner in the November general election. Walter Caruth of Lexa, the American party candidate, also is scheduled to be on the November ballot.

Bumpers, 45, a Charleston lawyer, expressed confidence Wednesday that he could defeat Faubus, but he declined to claim a runoff spot at this point against the former six-term governor. Bumpers, watching returns trickle in at his campaign headquarters, said he would not claim a runoff position because he had heard no concession from Purcell and because vote tabulation had not been completed.

Purcell said it appeared to him that the winner of the number two position would not be known until the votes are certified Friday.

Jerry Pinson, Purcell's campaign manager, said late Wednesday afternoon that he was still encouraged. Purcell campaign workers reported finding mistakes in vote tabulations.

Faubus maintained public silence at his headquarters while working on the telephone Wednesday contacting supporters throughout the state. Bob Trout of Faubus' campaign staff said the former governor had no comment on the race.

In the almost complete and unofficial returns, Faubus had 156,194 votes, about 37 per cent of the total cast.

Other Democratic totals were Speaker Hayes McClarkin of the Arkansas House 45,028, former State Rep. Bill Wells of Hermitage 32,923, Robert C. Compton of El Dorado 19,250, James M. Malone Jr. of Lonoke, 6,651 and W. S. Cheek of West Memphis 2,768.

Rockefeller said Wednesday that he was surprised at the poor showing of McClarkin because he thought the speaker
